

Electric Energy (OP-733-1), GP-57-4, November 1977

Bank will seek to finance rural electrification programs through rural cooperatives when feasible, adopting existing technology to the realities of progressive increases in the demand for electricity in the rural areas of Latin America, in such manner that the largest number of projects would be feasible with the same resources.